FAIRBURN: SITUATED TO SUCCEED

How Fairburn is Rethinking its Public Spaces to Build Community and Boost Economy

Things may be a bit quiet now, but Fairburn's Planning Director, Tarika Peeks, hopes to see the downtown area come to life around a vibrant arts and culture scene. A narrow alleyway could come alive as a new place to gather and see art. A crumbling underpass could be transformed into a city centerpiece with music and colorful murals. And the city's courtyard could activate the downtown as a staging area for music, shows, and more.

It's all part of the south Fulton city's Creative Placemaking Plan, which is now moving from study phase to implementation, thanks to support from the Atlanta Regional Commission's Community Development Assistance Program, or CDAP for short. Greetings Fairburn:

As summer begins to come to an end, the City of Fairburn has experienced great accomplishments as we continue to "Move Forward Together". On behalf of the Fairburn City Council and myself, I would like to share some of the many achievements of our "Fair" city. Highway 74 will be home in a few months to Fairburn Commons which will house several restaurants and stores such as Jersey Mike's, Golden Krust, Pita by the Beirut, Touch Down Wings, Moe's Southwest Grill, AT&T and a Beauty Salon. Also, on Highway 29 downtown we have begun renovations of the passenger depot to house the famous Casablanca Restaurant. This will be fine dining at its best!!

As we continue to "Move our city Forward" we can emphatically say that the City of Fairburn is truly "Situated to Succeed."
