EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Georgia Department of Community Affairs has established the Standards and Procedures for Local Comprehensive Planning to provide a framework for local governments to create a long-term plan that will address their critical planning issues and opportunities. These standards and procedures reflect the state’s interest in promoting healthy and economically vibrant communities. The Comprehensive Plan should act as a guide for communities in achieving their goals and objectives, and it should be used as a decision-making guide by local officials and community leaders for a twenty-year planning period.

Fairburn’s Comprehensive Plan includes the following required elements:

- Vision, Needs, and Opportunities
- Community Goals
- Land Use
- Housing
- Economic Development
- Transportation
- Community Work Program
- Broadband Service

Fairburn’s Vision Statement provides a general statement of what the City wants to become and the development patterns it wants to encourage. The Fairburn Comprehensive Plan Steering Committee (i.e., stakeholders) provided direction on identifying the City’s Needs and Opportunities that need to be addressed. Through the public input process, citizens, stakeholders, and leaders enumerated Community Goals to provide a road map for the future of Fairburn. High priority Needs and Opportunities as identified by the stakeholders are connected to implementation steps in the Community Work Program. The Community Work Program also includes activities which would help Fairburn achieve its identified Community Goals.

The Land Use Element is a key element of the Comprehensive Plan. It includes the City’s Future Development Map and accompanying Character Area descriptions. These should be referenced as future decisions about land use and development are made, as well as in determining areas for infrastructure upgrades and additional services. It reflects the community’s vision for growth and development, as determined through both the community participation process and a review of existing land uses and market conditions. Within each

Character Area, there are a number of appropriate land uses listed, implementation strategies, and photos of the preferred types and style of development. While the Future Development Map is intended to guide development for the entire twenty-year planning period, it is important to review the Map on a regular basis, as market and demographic trends constantly shift, thereby changing the demands for development. It is also recommended that, should a rezoning of a parcel be granted which does not fit the designated Character Area of the parcel, an amendment to the Future Development Map should be considered in order to accurately reflect the use of the parcel.

The Housing Element examines the adequacy and suitability of existing housing to meet current and future needs. It includes data on types of housing and occupancy, housing tenure, housing age, cost of housing, and jobs–housing balance.

The Economic Development Element of the Comprehensive Plan addresses the vitality of Fairburn and considers factors such as economic diversity of the community, and quality of the local labor force.

The Transportation Element looks at the adequacy of the local transportation network in serving the community, including the following:

- Road Network
- Alternative Modes of Transportation
- Parking
- Railroads, Trucking, Port Facilities, and Airports
- Transportation and Land Use Connection.

The Community Work Program includes Fairburn’s Short–Term Work Program, which will serve as a critical implementation tool for the City. While the Comprehensive Plan incorporates policies and strategies for a twenty-year planning period, the Short–Term Work Program outlines specific implementation activities in a more manageable, five-year timeframe. The Short–Term Work Program should be updated every five years, as required by the Georgia Department of Community Affairs.

The Broadband Service element highlights broadband availability in Fairburn, including a map depicting the number of broadband providers across space. This element is required by the Georgia Department of Community Affairs in response to Senate Bill 402, also known as the ACE Act (Achieving Connectivity Everywhere) aimed to determine whether local communities are served by broadband service.

COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION

COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION

A number of community participation tools, meetings and activities were used throughout the development of the City of Fairburn’s Comprehensive Plan. The intention of these various activities was to ensure that meaningful community input was the driving force of this plan. A Steering Committee, comprising elected officials, community leaders and economic development representatives guided the development of the Comprehensive Plan.

STEERING COMMITTEE

The first task in developing the Community Participation Plan for the City of Fairburn was the identification of the Steering Committee. The following individuals made up the steering committee for the plan:

- Hannah Finley – Art Advisory Council
- Lester Thompson – Director of Community Development
- Kalanos Johnson – Director of Economic Development

The role of the Steering Committee members was to provide ongoing input throughout the development of the plan to ensure the plan was in line with the City of Fairburn’s vision for the City. The steering committee met four times between March and October 2020 to review public input and community data in order to draft a Comprehensive Plan Update that reflects the true desires of the residents, business and property owners within the City of Fairburn. At each phase of the planning process, they provided the planning team with a valuable perspective that helped refine the planning process.

The steering committee held four meetings in the process of developing the Comprehensive Plan.

| 1 | Thursday, March 26, 2020 |
| 2 | Wednesday, April 15, 2020 |

COMMUNITY MEETING

Throughout the development of the City of Fairburn’s Comprehensive Plan, one online survey was created and advertised to community members, and one virtual community meeting was held in order to gather input from residents and local business owners to help determine their desires for the future of Fairburn.

COMMUNITY MEETING #1

The virtual community meeting was held on July 30, 2020. During this meeting, attendees were asked to participate in a number of different polling activities, including mapping questions, multiple choice questions, and open-ended questions.

During the meeting, participants were asked to identify needs and opportunities in the City of Fairburn related to housing, retail, transportation, the environment, downtown Fairburn, and the community at large.

On the topic of housing, participants were asked to identify the most important housing need in Fairburn, their preference for multi-family or mixed-use developments downtown, and where they would like to see the developments. Attendees were also asked what type of retail they would most like to see in Fairburn.

Next, participants were asked to identify the most pressing transportation issue in Fairburn. Participants were then given an overview of cyclist and pedestrian safety issues and their potential solutions. Following this overview, participants were asked to drop pins on a map of Fairburn identifying where they felt pedestrian and cyclist safety was a concern, and to drop pins on another map of Fairburn where they felt road improvements were most needed.

Attendees were asked about their vision for aesthetic improvements in downtown Fairburn and the types of public art they would like to see. These questions involved a visual preference surveys. The visual preference survey for aesthetic improvements downtown included the following categories: Façade improvements, public art, seating, streetscape plantings, and sidewalk repair. The visual preference survey for downtown public art included the following categories: light installations, sculpture, historical markers, murals, and interactive art.

COMMUNITY SURVEY

A virtual community survey was created to provide an additional avenue to gain community input. The survey was designed to capture the community's concerns, as well as their desires for growth and change in the future. Fifty-two people responded to the survey which advertised through the City's website and social media pages. The survey results are incorporated into the Appendix of this document.

COMPREHENSIVE PLAN REVIEW

Prior to the draft being submitted to the Department of Community Affairs (DCA), a second public hearing is held to ensure stakeholders and the public have an opportunity to review the plan prior to submission. This allows the governing bodies of the City and residents to see the plan and provide feedback to ensure the plan is reflective of their goals for the future development of the City of Fairburn.

CURRENT LAND USE PATTERN

In the nearly 11,000 acres that makes up Fairburn, the area is dominated by open space and residential. Greenspace, which includes parks, park lands, forests, and golf courses make up about 32% of the total area of the city, much of it south of Roosevelt Highway. Agricultural uses, which also take up large areas of land, account for another 9% of the total land area. Single Family Residential between a quarter acre and one acre lots (Medium Density) make up the largest percentage of residential land use at 13%. Single Family Lots greater than an acre in size (Low Density) make up the second largest residential land use at 10%. Note that nearly 5% of the area of the city is transitional, developments that started but have not finished, which represent a possible asset for the City if they can be restarted or repurposed.

Highway 74 as the main exit off Interstate 85 provides a commercial gateway to the city, with commercial uses clustered around the exit and again further south, near the edge of town. Industrial uses congregate around the Interstate south of I-85 and also south of Roosevelt Highway on the west side of town. There is larger cluster of commercial and industrial uses near Oakley Industrial Boulevard.

The historic downtown area along Roosevelt Highway, and the railroad there, maintains its smaller historical footprint with a commercial core, some institutional uses, and smaller lot residential to the north and south of that core that continue nearly to the border of the city. The area further to the east of the city contains residential development that stalled, waiting for a new start.

Downtown Fairburn currently consists of two blocks with historic buildings located at the intersection of Broad Street and Campbellton Street. The rest of the area that is currently considered to be Downtown Fairburn spreads along Broad Street from Senoia Street intersection to Orchard Street. The stretch from Orchard Street to Route 138 along Broad Street has mix of uses; residential, commercial and institutional. The pattern of existing uses can be identified into three nodes; civic uses at the intersection of Senoia Street and Broad Street, institutional uses at Burton Drive/Estes Drive and Broad Street and retail/commercial uses along the rest of the stretch of Broad Street. Due to the railroad along Broad Street to the south the downtown development is only on one side of Broad Street. The existing downtown is limited in size, and the services and amenities it offers. Housing is limited within the downtown.

Downtown businesses include used/antique related stores, restaurants, a drugstore, theatre, a small grocery store, a car repair business and a couple of small strip malls in bad repair. The historic buildings along Broad Street from Campbellton Street to Dodd Street are in poor condition and require restoration. Broad Street, with its five lanes and angled parking on the north side from Valley View Street to Dodd Street, creates a huge asphalt area at the core of downtown. Coupled with Broad Street being an arterial road, commuters tend to speedily pass by without stopping or noticing the downtown. This makes it a very unfriendly environment to pedestrians. The CSX railroad separates the south side neighborhoods from downtown. In general, the downtown lacks cohesive pedestrian infrastructure, mix of uses, gateways and facilities; sidewalks, streetscapes, defined parking, lighting, signage, and landscape.

In 2009, the City of Fairburn received a Livable Centers Initiative (LCI) grant from the Atlanta Regional Commission to draft a Downtown plan. The outcome of the LCI Downtown Study was the desire to transform Fairburn from a bedroom community to a 'thriving town center'. The community vision was to have a thriving, compact historic downtown with good services, retail, restaurants, entertainment and offices and housing options. The community wanted a walkable and pedestrian friendly downtown with a village green and connectivity to neighborhoods; sidewalks and bike lanes/multi-paths. Transit was desired for better connectivity to the region. The community wanted to build on the quaint, historic, unique character of Fairburn.

Many of the recommendations of the LCI study have already been implemented by the City of Fairburn, such as the update to the Zoning Ordinance to encourage the desired character for the downtown area. The LCI study is a very in-depth analysis and detailed plan for downtown area of the city. Comprehensive Plans are more general in nature and will often incorporate all existing detailed area plans for a community. The LCI study for Downtown Fairburn will be adopted into the Comprehensive Plan by reference.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT MAP

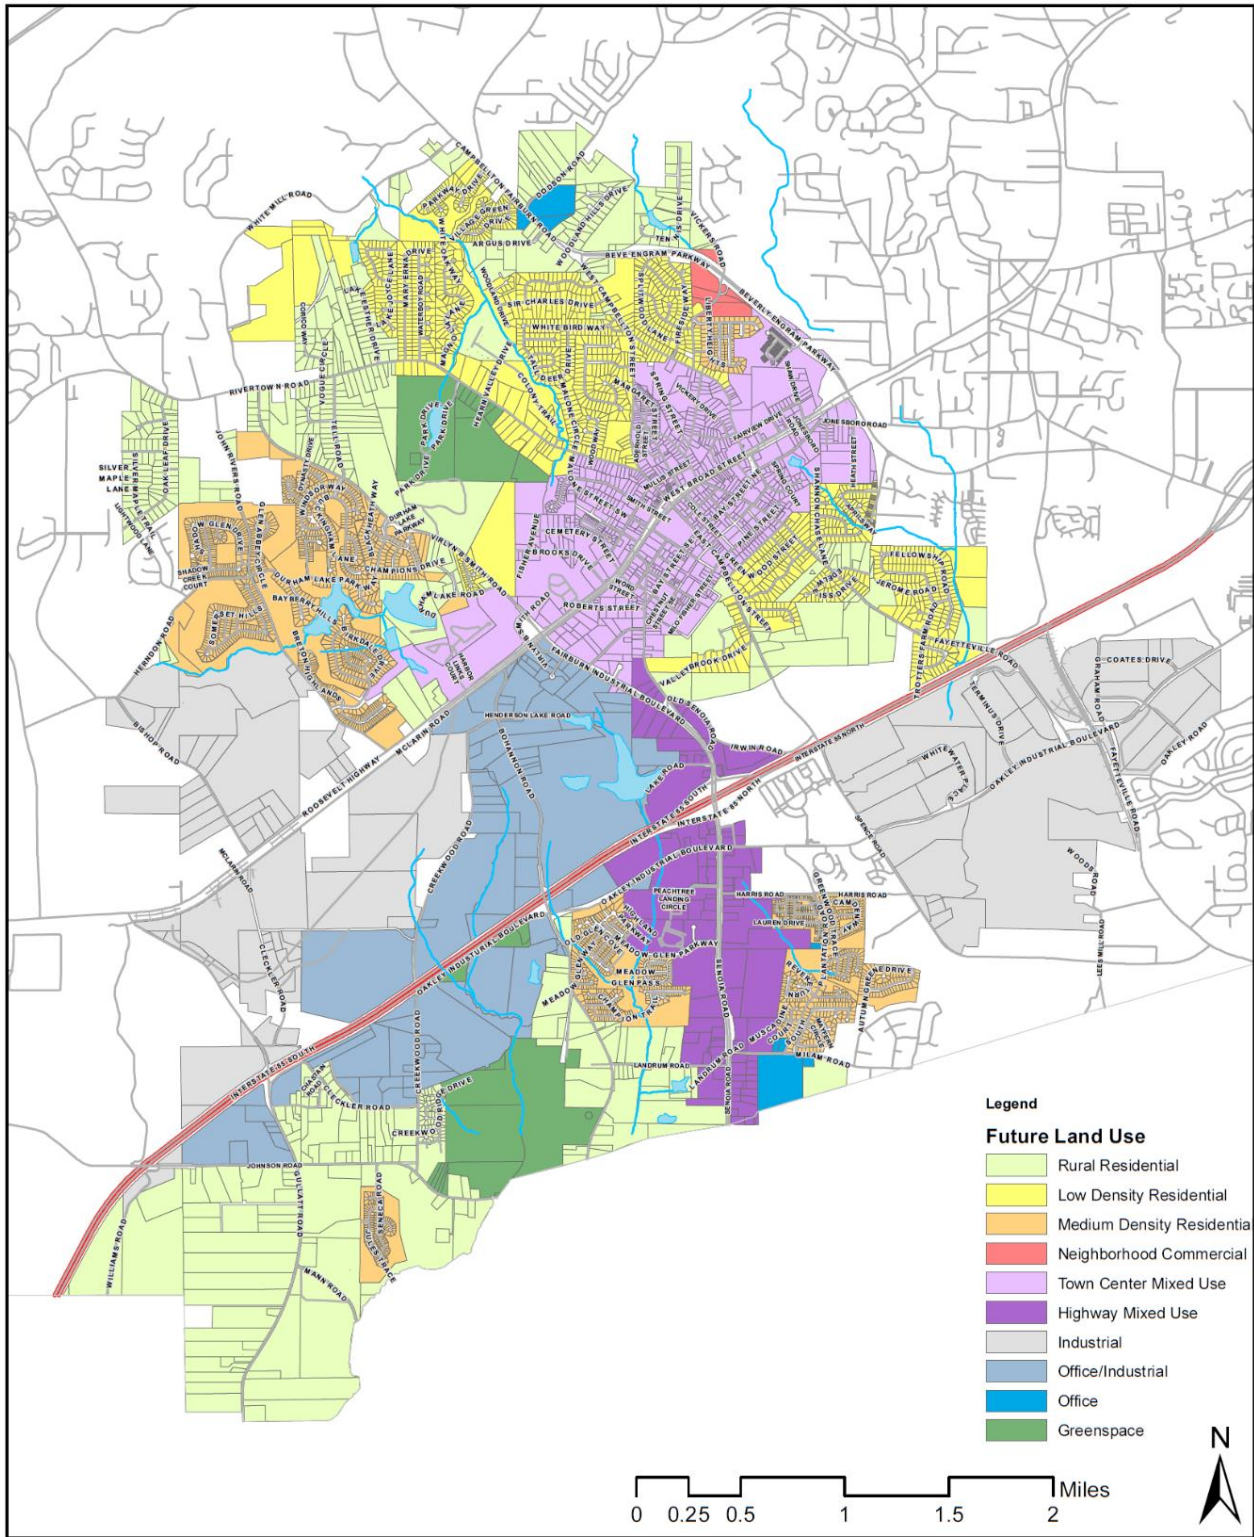

The Future Development Map, shown in Figure 1, is a representation of the ideal development pattern when Fairburn is fully developed. It illustrates the future character areas desired by the Fairburn community, as expressed through the community participation process. For each Character Area shown on the Future Development Map, a narrative describing the type of development and appropriate land uses is included, to be pursued in the Character Area and strategies to guide implementation.

It should be noted that the Future Development Map does not change the existing land use or current zoning of any property. The Map, like the entire Comprehensive Plan, is intended to guide policy decisions for a twenty-year planning period, and development should proceed in a manner and a timeframe that is consistent with the needs of the population, market demands, environmentally appropriate, and sustainable.

CHARACTER AREAS

The Department of Community Affairs defines a Character Area as a specific geographic area within the community that:

- Has unique or special characteristics to be preserved or enhanced (such as a downtown, a historic district, a neighborhood, or a transportation corridor);
- Has potential to evolve into a unique area with more intentional guidance of future development through adequate planning and implementation (such as a strip commercial corridor that could be revitalized into more attractive village development pattern); or
- Requires special attention due to unique development issues (rapid change of development patterns, economic decline, etc.)

City of Fairburn Future Land Use

TOWN CENTER MIXED USE

The Town Center Mixed Use character area includes Downtown Fairburn and the surrounding core. Downtown is the historic node of the city, with traditional, commercial land uses and limited residential development. Lots in Downtown Fairburn are typically small, with zero-lot line buildings, and shallow or no setbacks from the street right-of-way. There is an interconnected street grid, with the heaviest activity along Highway 29/East Broad Street. Downtown Fairburn is easily accessible from I-85. There are also several civic/institutional uses in Downtown, including Fairburn City Hall, Landmark Christian School, Campbellton Elementary School, First Baptist Church, and Georgia Military College.

DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIES

- Maintain integrity of interconnected grid and pedestrian circulation
- Historic structures should be preserved or adaptively reused wherever possible
- New development should reflect the historical context of building mass, scale and setbacks
- Encourage mixed-use infill and redevelopment
- Encourage transit-supportive residential development
- Economic development strategies should continue to nurture thriving commercial activity
- Enhance tree planting to include more shade trees and ornamental streetscape plantings
- Ensure that future phases of streetscape enhancements are developed in harmony with previous efforts, as well as economic development goals of the City and the Downtown Development Authority
- Encourage development of various housing types

- Encourage vibrant architectural designs and unique amenities
- Promote implementation of public art and placemaking assets
- Promote cohesive building signage

The centralized location of Downtown Fairburn is ideal for denser town center mixed-use development patterns, with residential, commercial, civic/institutional/ office and educational uses within this character area. The goal is for the Downtown/Town Center Mixed Use Character Area to become the center of daily life in the city.

Appropriate zoning districts in the currently adopted Zoning Ordinance for Downtown include, RM-12, RM-36, R-3, R-4, R-CT, and O&I (with limitations based on building scale and design).

However, the Zoning Ordinance and Map may be amended after the adoption of the Comprehensive Plan to more closely reflect the desired land use pattern for the area.

APPROPRIATE USES

- Mixed Use
- Civic/Institutional/Educational
- Residential (all types)
- Commercial/Retail/Office

RESIDENTIAL

Residential Character Areas lie to the east and west of Downtown Fairburn, as well as south of I-85. They consist of single-family, detached residential development on a variety of lot sizes. There is also a wide variety of architectural styles and types of materials found among the homes and neighborhoods in the Residential Character Areas. The areas are mostly built out, but there are some large tracts of land – particularly south of the interstate – that could be developed as subdivisions.

Through the public involvement process, the citizens of Fairburn indicated an acceptance of a variety of residential architectural styles and densities. The community also expressed a desire to preserve larger lots in the southwest portion of the city. There are three residential density categories on the Future Development Map.

- Rural Residential – this residential character area is meant to preserve a rural feel and transition to the very low-density uses in the rural areas surrounding the city in the City of South Fulton, Fayette, and Coweta counties. One acre or larger lots are appropriate in these areas.
- Low Density Residential – this residential character area is suburban in nature with one third to one acre lots.
- Medium Density Residential – this residential character area is meant to promote a tight knit, more walkable community with lots that are one fourth of an acre or smaller.

It should be noted that higher density residential, such as townhouses and apartments, in addition to single family residential, will be allowed in the Downtown Mixed-Use Character area.

DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIES

- Stable, safe, well maintained neighborhoods that maintain their value over time
- Allow for a variety of home styles, materials, and lot sizes
- Accommodating to pedestrians and cyclists to allow for alternative access to Downtown

Appropriate zoning districts for Residential Character Areas are R-1, R-2, R-3, and R-4.

APPROPRIATE USES

- Single-Family Residential
- Parks/Playgrounds
- Golf Courses
- Schools
- Churches

HIGHWAY MIXED USE

There are two Commercial Character areas. One is simply entitled Commercial and is a more general designation. The other is Neighborhood Commercial.

The Commercial Character Area is south of Downtown Fairburn and south of I-85, along Fairburn Industrial Boulevard/Senoia Road. Businesses in the Commercial Character Area rely on and serve a wider population than the commercial businesses in the Town Center Character Area, including the entire city, surrounding counties, and pass-through traffic. It is important to minimize the impact of commercial areas on surrounding uses by considering their additional vehicular traffic generation, the potential of their aesthetics on the site and surrounding properties, and ensuring compatibility. The Commercial Character Areas are adjacent to Residential and Office Industrial Character Areas, providing goods and services to workers, residents, and commuters within a reasonable distance of where they live, work, and travel.

Appropriate zoning districts in the Commercial Character Area include C-1, C-2, O & I, R-CT, RM-12, RM-36, and PD.

DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIES

- Vibrant commercial corridors that provide a comprehensive array of goods and services to Fairburn residents as well as Coweta and Fayette County residents
- Smaller scale, walkable retail centers with a variety of stores and shops
- Developments that are accessible and safe for pedestrians and cyclists, as well as automobiles
- To promote a variety of housing types in the area.
- Limit multi-family densities to no more than 36 units an acre
- Building height should be limited to four (4) stories.
- Multi-family and townhome should be used as a transition from the intense commercial use to the residential uses

APPROPRIATE LAND USES

- Mixed-Use
- Retail Sales of Goods (Clothing, Shoes, Accessories, Gifts, Sporting Goods, etc.)
- Grocery Stores
- Restaurants/Cafés
- Drug Stores/Pharmacies
- Dry Cleaners
- Medical and professional offices/other service providers
- Theaters
- Multi-family housing
- Townhomes
- Lodging
- Transit-oriented development

NEIGHBORHOOD COMMERCIAL

The Neighborhood Commercial area is located in southwest Fairburn, in the Line Creek Community, which is one of the more rural areas of the City. The neighborhood commercial area is intended to be a limited, small-scale convenience commercial office area serving nearby residential neighborhoods as opposed to a larger market. Uses within neighborhood commercial character areas generally occur within enclosed buildings with no outside storage and limited outdoor display of goods and merchandise. Pedestrian accessibility to nearby neighborhoods is key, but uses are mostly reliant on cars for access. Nonetheless, buildings are scaled to be compatible with and promote pedestrian activity. Entrances, frontages, and building façades are softened with landscaping and low-lying identification signs.

DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIES

- Small-scale convenience commercial area serving nearby residential neighborhoods.
- Buildings that are accessible and safe for pedestrians and cyclists, as well as automobiles

At this time, C-1 is the only appropriate zoning districts for the Neighborhood Commercial Character Area. However, the Zoning Ordinance and Map may be amended after the adoption of the Comprehensive Plan to more closely reflect the desired land use pattern for this area.

APPROPRIATE LAND USES

- Retail Sales of Goods (food and other convenience items)
- Very small-scale grocery Stores
- Drug Stores/Pharmacies
- Office
- Institutional
- Day Care Centers

OFFICE

The Office Character Area is situated on the southeast border of the Fairburn city limits, next to and behind the Commercial Character Area along Highway 29. It is also adjacent to a small portion of the Residential Character Area in the southeastern part of the City, serving as a transition between commercial and residential uses. This area is intended to accommodate office and institutional use, for both the private and government sector.

DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIES

- A rich business environment with various professional and government offices
- Corridors that are framed by buildings of high-quality materials with attractive landscaping
- Parking areas that provide safe pedestrian circulation within the parking area connecting to structures and to the street

Development that is contextually sensitive to surrounding residential and commercial uses through appropriate buffering mechanisms, quality architecture and convenient connections

The appropriate zoning district for this area is O&I.

APPROPRIATE LAND USES

- Private Sector Business and Professional Offices
- Government Buildings and Offices
- Banks

- Educational
- Churches and Other Places of Worship
- Child Day Care Centers

OFFICE/INDUSTRIAL

The Office/Industrial Character Areas lie along the I-85 corridor. These areas consist of a mix of light and heavy industrial uses, as well as office uses.

Industrial uses may include manufacturing, processing plants, factories, warehouses and wholesale trade facilities. Office uses may be associated with or support surrounding industrial uses.

DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIES

- Create centers of work and innovation
- Develop true business parks, with a mix of industrial and office uses
- Functional traffic flow for all modes of traffic, including large trucks on well-designed streets with curbs and landscaping
- Buffers to provide transition to surrounding, lower intensity surrounding development
- Appropriate screening for outdoor storage and activity areas

Zoning districts within the Office & Industrial Character Areas include O&I, M-1 and M-2.

APPROPRIATE LAND USES

- Office
- Industrial/ Manufacturing/ Processing/ Warehousing
- Research and Development

INDUSTRIAL

The Industrial Character Area lies to the south of I-85, along the eastern city limits. It is solely dedicated to industrial uses such as manufacturing, warehousing, fabrication, and processing.

DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIES

- Aesthetic considerations along public rights-of-way to create visually pleasing corridors with high quality design elements, building materials, and landscaping
- Facilitate interstate access by maintaining roads that connect the Industrial Character Area to I-85

Zoning districts in this character area include M-1 and M-2.

APPROPRIATE USES

- Manufacturing, Processing, and Fabrication
- Warehousing and Storage
- Automobile and Truck Sales and Maintenance
- Printing and Publishing

GREENSPACE

The Greenspace Character Area is for land dedicated to active or passive recreational uses, as well as for green space and wildlife management. It is in this area that residents have an opportunity to connect with nature and the City of Fairburn through activities that promote physical activity and healthy lifestyles. These areas may be either publicly or privately owned. They are generally located in an array of locations throughout the city near Residential Character Areas. Uses that are found in this character area may often be located within other character are—as well.

DEVELOPMENT STRATEGIES

- Provide accessible and diverse open spaces that allow for Fairburn residents and visitors to meet, interact, and understand the natural environment of the city
- Connect parks and open spaces with open space corridors and/or a transportation network that is hospitable to and safe for pedestrians and bicyclists
- Preserve and restore natural drainage patterns and topography that help manage stormwater runoff and maintain or improve water quality
- Discourage development in the 100-year floodplain
- Continue to designate riparian buffers for the protection of streams.
- Designation of additional green space in new developments
- Continue to sustain and preserve these areas for future generations

APPROPRIATE USES

- Playgrounds
- Public Parks
- Nature Preserves
- Golf Courses
- Amphitheatres/Pavilions
- Sports Fields
- Bike/Pedestrian/Running Trails

NATURAL & CULTURAL RESOURCES

NATURAL & CULTURAL RESOURCES

The City of Fairburn contains roughly 28 miles of streams and waterways. The City has 368 acres of designated greenspace and plans to set aside more land in the future. Four water supply watersheds intersect the City to the south and east totaling 6,716 acres. As a result, 62% of the City falls within a water supply watershed. Approximately 34% of the City is within a groundwater recharge zone. These zones account for 3,661 acres dispersed throughout the City. Approximately 220 acres of land in Fairburn are within the 100-year flood zone. The City also contains 450 acres of wetlands. The wetlands, water supply watersheds, and the groundwater recharge areas within Fairburn have all been identified by the Atlanta Regional Commission as Regionally Important Resources. These wetlands and watersheds are shown in Figure 3.

The City of Fairburn contains three nationally registered historic resources. The John F. Beavers House is located northwest of Fairburn off of Georgia Highway 92 and was added to the National Registry in 1984. The Campbell County Courthouse, shown in Figure 2, is located at the intersection of East Broad and Cole Streets and was added in 1976. Lastly, the Fairburn Commercial Historic District was added to the National Registry in 1988 and extends along West Broad Street from Smith Street to Dodd Street.

HOUSING AGE AND CONDITION

Older housing stock within the City of Fairburn has declined over the past decade while newer housing stock, defined as built after 2000, has seen a significant level of construction. This newer housing stock is now the dominant housing type, accounting for over half the current stock in the City (See Table 7).

JOBS–HOUSING BALANCE

Table 9 illustrates the balance between housing and jobs within the City of Fairburn. As the balance becomes more even, Fairburn will become more of a live/work community where people can live closer to their jobs, and traffic congestion will be reduced. A balanced community generally has a jobs–housing ratio of 1.25 to 1.75. Fairburn had a ratio of 1.41 in 2018 (using 2012 projected employment data), which has increased from 1.2 in 2010.

HOUSING FOR SPECIAL POPULATIONS

Most services for special populations are provided by Fulton County. The City does not have any homeless shelters, hospice care, or special housing for those infected with HIV. Special needs housing is available in some private homes on Sir Charles Drive and Azalea Drive. The Angel House provides assistance to citizens with substance abuse problems.

For populations 65 and older, a Senior Housing Project currently at Washington, Broad and Church Streets will provide 88 Units of Senior Housing for ages 55 and older, through a selection of 1– and 2–bedroom units.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

The City of Fairburn is home to over 1,880 businesses, according to United States Census Quick Facts. This includes 803 women-owned firms, and 1,527 minority owned firms.

According to the 2017 U.S. Economic Census, the dominant industry within Fairburn is Wholesale Trade. The second dominant industry is Manufacturing, followed by Transportation and Warehousing and Educational Services. COMMUTING

According to the U.S. Census Bureau’s State and County QuickFacts, the average commute time to work for Fairburn residents is 24.7 minutes. This is less than Union City residents’ average commute time of 28.0 minutes, and slightly less more than the average commute time for City of Atlanta residents of 27.0 minutes. Fairburn residents’ average commute time is less than the average for the both Fulton County (28.5 minutes) and the State of Georgia (28.4 minutes).

TRANSPORTATION

This section of the comprehensive plan evaluates the adequacy of the following components of transportation within the City:

- Road Network
- Bike and pedestrian facilities
- Transit
- Parking
- Transportation and Land Use Connection

This section also includes strategies for addressing the needs or opportunities identified during the community meetings or through the community survey and integrating these strategies into the Community Work Program.

TRANSPORTATION DATA

CAR OWNERSHIP

Although the City of Fairburn is serviced by MARTA bus service (Routes 180, 181), vehicular transportation is heavily relied on by working residents of the City. According to the 2018 American Community Survey, 6.2% of workers over the age of 16 did not have access to a vehicle, 37.9% have access to one vehicle, 33.9% have access to two vehicles, and 22% have access to three or more vehicles.

TRAVEL TO WORK

The results of the 2018 American Community Survey indicated that 3% of working Fairburn residents 16 years and older utilized public transportation as a means of transportation to work, a decrease from 4.4% in 2009. The vast majority of workers over the age of 16 drove alone to work, which accounted for 72.9% of the working population.

The average commuting time from home to work for Fairburn residents in 2018 was 24.7 minutes, based on the results of the 2018 American Community Survey.

ROADWAY FUNCTIONAL CLASSIFICATION

Roadway functional classification is the method by which streets and highway are grouped based on the purpose a road serves or how it functions. The classification of a road can determine the available funding options for roadway improvements and maintenance. Classifications are based on multiple variables including traffic volume, average trip length, access control, and access to traffic generators. For areas like Fairburn, there are four standard functional classes: principal arterial, minor arterial, collector, and local. Figure 5 depicts the classification of roadways in Fairburn.

Principal arterials typically carry the highest volumes and have the most restrictive access control. These are often the major commuter routes and can be broken into interstate, expressways, and principal arterials. Minor arterials are routes which carry a significant number of vehicles but typically provide access to smaller geographic areas. Collector streets provide access to residential neighborhoods as well as commercial and industrial areas. Collector streets also typically connect neighborhoods and business areas to arterials. Local streets are all roadways which are not collectors or arterials.

SOUTH FULTON COMPREHENSIVE TRANSPORTATION PLAN

The South Fulton Comprehensive Transportation Plan was completed in 2013. The City of Fairburn participated in this planning effort and the results of the plan are incorporated into this document.

The vision of the South Fulton Comprehensive Transportation Plan of Fulton County is to offer travelers, businesses, and residents a comprehensive and integrated transportation system for the purpose of balancing preservation of community character with economic growth through multi-modal connectivity, mobility, and accessibility. The goals and objectives address the issues and needs identified through the existing conditions inventory, needs assessment, and stakeholder input. Issues identified centered on the market and land use, roadways, walking and biking, transit, freight, and funding. The goals and objectives were used to develop performance measures for prioritizing projects.

To address the transportation needs of south Fulton, a lengthy aspirational list of transportation projects was created. To develop this list, numerous sources of information were drawn upon including previously completed studies and plans, traffic and crash data, needs assessment analyses, and stakeholder and community input. The county and cities of South Fulton have completed comprehensive plans, Livable Centers Initiative (LCI) funded small area studies, corridor studies, and other planning studies. A review of all these plans was completed early on to understand previously identified transportation needs in the county. The plans and Capital Improvement Programs of the county and cities were reviewed again during the recommendations phase to identify the projects that have already been proposed. The Atlanta Regional Commission's (ARC) current RTP/TIP was also reviewed to establish a list of regionally significant projects.

The results of the needs assessment analysis and travel demand modeling were used to understand mobility deficiencies and to determine needed improvements. The final source of input into the aspirations list of projects was feedback from the staff, stakeholders, public, and elected officials of south Fulton.

The aspirations list of transportation projects included hundreds of projects. The next steps involved a great deal of technical assessment and collaboration to refine the project list into the final prioritized list of regional project recommendations documented in this report. Regional projects were evaluated and prioritized based on the methodology described in the report. Regional projects are those projects that are multijurisdictional and/or important to regional travel. Local and multi-jurisdictional projects are considered local in nature. The highest priority projects are in the short-term implementation phase and include the first 5 years of the plan (2014–2019). Regional projects recommended in the short term should be considered first when funding is available. Short term projects were identified as being at least one of the following: top priority for the South Fulton study area, able to be easily implemented, or low cost.

SOUTH FULTON COMPREHENSIVE TRANSPORTATION PLAN RECOMMENDATIONS FOR THE CITY OF FAIRBURN

INTERSTATE 85 INTERCHANGE REDESIGN

Redesign of I-85 interchange at Senoia Road needs to consider truck operations, as this is the main interstate entrance for trucks from the Fairburn Intermodal Yard and freight facilities on Oakley Industrial Boulevard. There is a complex alignment of roadways where Senoia Road, McLarin Road, Roosevelt Highway and Fairburn Industrial Boulevard come together in an unsignalized set of ramps and intersections. A complete redesign of this interchange is warranted. At a minimum, traffic signals at the ramp from Roosevelt Highway southwest bound to Fairburn Industrial Blvd/Senoia Road southeast bound is recommended. A signal should also be considered at the intersection of Senoia Road and the ramp to McLarin Rd heading in the southwest direction.

OAKLEY INDUSTRIAL AND SENOIA ROAD

Construction is currently underway for improvements at the intersection of Oakley Industrial Boulevard and Senoia Road. However, further improvements are needed. Traveling east on Oakley Industrial Boulevard approaching Senoia Road, there needs to be three separate lanes - one to turn right, one to turn left, and one to go straight through the intersection. The turning lanes need to be sufficiently long to allow for queuing of several vehicles including multiple trucks. Trucks approaching this intersection from Oakley Industrial Boulevard may be traveling towards the CSX Intermodal Yard in Fairburn or they may be traveling south to I-85. Additionally, the traffic signal needs to be retimed to allow for more traffic to get through the intersection for each cycle. Similar improvements need to be made on Oakley Industrial Boulevard heading west towards the Senoia Road interchange.

The South Fulton CTP also recommended working closely with CSX to understand any plans to increase operations at the Fairburn Intermodal Yard and how that will impact truck traffic operations in the subarea. Similarly, industrial activity is increasing substantially along Oakley Industrial Boulevard and these increases need to be tracked so that transportation implications are considered.

TRANSIT

The Atlanta region has developed an official long-range transit vision titled Concept 3. Several Concept 3 recommendations will complement and support the proposed City of Fairburn projects. The Concept 3 recommendations are intended to serve region wide travel demand, in contrast to the proposed projects above that primarily serve the study area.

The following list summarizes Concept 3 recommendations in South Fulton:

- Southwest Regional Rail: proposed commuter rail line connecting South Fulton County with downtown Atlanta to the north and Newnan to the south while running roughly parallel to I-85. Planned stops within the study area include Union City, Red Oak (near the interchange of I-85 and I-285), College Park, and East Point, which will include a transfer connection to MARTA.
- South Fulton Parkway Arterial Bus Rapid Transit: enhanced bus service along South Fulton Parkway from Cochran Mill Park to Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport.
- I-85 Express Bus: bus service that will run in managed lanes on I-85 and connects South Fulton County with downtown Atlanta to the north and Newnan to the south.
- US 29 Express Bus: arterial express bus service that will run along US 29 and connects Newnan to the south with a stop at Union City, but a terminus at the Red Oak/Old National MARTA station. A transfer connection to the SR 138 Express Bus is proposed at the Union City station.
- SR 138 Express Bus: arterial express bus service that will run along SR 138 and connect Riverdale to the east with Union City in the study area. The proposed SR 138 Express Bus service continues east from Riverdale to Jonesboro and then turns northeast at Stockbridge.

There are two MARTA bus routes that service Fairburn:

- MARTA Route 181 begins at the College Park Station, goes through downtown Fairburn, connecting to Highway 138 and ends at the South Fulton Park and Ride, serving South Fulton Parkway, Buffington Road, and Flat Shoals Road. Service is provided on weekdays, Saturdays, and Sundays, but not holidays.
- MARTA bus route 180 runs along US 29 (Roosevelt Highway), Washington Road, SR 6 (Camp Creek Parkway) and connects Palmetto, Fairburn, Union City, East Point, and College Park to the College Park MARTA station. With 3,380 weekday riders, route 180 ranks third in the study area in terms of ridership. To improve service along this important route, queue jump lanes and transit signal priority improvements are recommended at major intersections on US 29 (Roosevelt Highway), Washington Road, and SR 6 (Camp Creek Parkway).

ROADWAYS

Roadway enhancements and maintenance can contribute to the identity of the City of Fairburn and improve quality of life for residents and visitors. Enhancements can take a variety of forms and be completed with intersection and roadway improvements. Maintenance is an ongoing effort and ranges from repainting stripes to milling and resurfacing. A variety of options for enhancing intersections are available.

Stamped concrete crosswalks can improve the pedestrian environment and give an area a unique look. Placing traffic signals on mast arms reduces visual clutter and improves the aesthetic appeal of an intersection. Where feasible, roundabouts are an intersection design option that allows for landscaping in the center. Besides beautification, roundabouts have several other important benefits. Studies have shown that roundabouts are safer than traditional stop sign or signal controlled intersections. They also reduce delay and improve traffic flow. They do this by allowing a continuous flow of traffic that is not required to stop, thus the intersection can handle more traffic in the same amount of time. Roundabouts eliminate hardware, maintenance and electrical costs associated with traffic signals, and they are also more effective during power outages.

The South Fulton Comprehensive Transportation Plan also recommends implementing wayfinding systems and landscaping along roadways.

BIKE AND PEDESTRIAN FACILITIES

Bike and Pedestrian improvements were identified in the Comprehensive Plan community meetings, the results of which are shown in Figure 6. A number of different paths were identified as potential routes for future bike lanes or paths to connect the disparate parts of the city. Additionally, it is recommended to include the addition of a bike lane as part of any road resurfacing project, if the road width allows for one.

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

The seven cities in South Fulton and Fulton County work together determine which roadway corridors are in need of a unified set of regulations and guidelines. Roosevelt Highway (US 29) and Senoia Road (SR 74) have been designated as regionally significant priority corridors and serve as the primary non-freeway roadways that facilitate regional trips. Complete detailed corridor studies were recommended for each identified corridor, including Highway 29 and Highway 74. The purpose of a corridor study is to focus on one specific roadway, and develop steps to achieve good access management. The corridor studies are intended to determine specific steps that can be taken for each corridor to achieve the policies in the overlay ordinances.

TRANSPORTATION FUNDING

LMIG

Local Maintenance and Improvement Grant (LMIG) Program: GDOT provides funding through the LMIG Program where funds are allocated annually to local governments by a formula based on population and local road mileage. The program can fund a variety of construction projects or street resurfacing. Only road and bridge projects are eligible for the program because the funds for the LMIG program are provided by the motor fuels tax.

COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT

The South Fulton Community Improvement District (CID) was formed in 1999 by business leaders interested in improving freight access to warehousing, manufacturing and industrial sites along Oakley Industrial Boulevard and connectivity to I-85. Soon after its formation, the South Fulton CID began work on the Oakley Industrial Bridge—a bridge to connect Oakley Industrial Boulevard over the CSX Railroad Tracks. The project was eventually completed in 1996, and the original plan expanded to include a connected, improved roadway system throughout the CID area for all type of traffic.

The CID leverages money collected by funding studies and preliminary engineering. The CID does not replace city and county infrastructure improvement programs but supplements them by providing a means to advance projects within the area. When construction money becomes available from the state or local jurisdictions, the CID has projects ready to go. The projects created by this investment are chosen, designed and constructed with the business community in mind, making the area more accessible and more appealing for businesses, employees, residents, and consumers.

COMMUNITY WORK PROGRAM

This element of the comprehensive plan lays out the specific activities the community plans to undertake during the next five years to address the priority Needs and Opportunities and/or to achieve portions of the Community Goals.

The Community Work Program outlines the overall strategy for achieving the Vision for Future Development and for addressing the Community Issues and Opportunities. The Community Work Program includes the following sections:

- The Short-Term Work Program which outlines specific measures to be undertaken by the City of Fairburn to implement the Comprehensive Plan in Fiscal Years 2021–2025.
- The Long-Term Work Program which lists strategies to be implemented after Fiscal Year 2019 to assist in the implementation of the Comprehensive Plan.

- How can Fairburn's assets be used to address the City's needs?
 - Location
 - Promote Fairburn as a location
 - People can go to Fairburn that don't want to go all the way to downtown ATL
 - Using the location as an asset/tool to drive economic development
 - Retail/restaurants
 - Attract the weekend and after-5 crowd to spend money downtown
 - Identity/marketing/branding
 - Can use this as a tool to address challenges (bring new business/patronage)
 - Have a full-time economic development person who can champion marketing/branding
 - Improving curb appeal to attract businesses
 - LCI streetscape project – will attract new businesses
 - Using technology / City of Fairburn website as a one stop shop – all that you need is in the City of Fairburn

- Advertise business opportunities
 - Advertise workforce development opportunities
- Going forward, what should the role of the City be with regards to attracting retail, restaurants, and entertainment downtown?
 - Provide incentives
 - Make downtown more attractive
 - Brand the City better
 - Not just through social media, brochures, fliers, other
 - Focus on creating a pedestrian friendly, walkable community
 - Start a business association
 - Façade grants (continue? I believe Tarika started a program for this)
 - Rely more on the downtown development authority to attract businesses
 - Make strategic purchases to advance city objectives
 - Create public-private partnerships to promote greater development
 - Create a retail space around city plaza
- Going forward, what should the role of the City be with regards to lack of safe pedestrian crossings and sidewalk gaps?
 - The city is actively working to bring Fairburn into ADA compliance
 - Downtown LCI streetscape project is addressing some of these issues

Steering committee question: is money allocated yearly for sidewalks?

Answer: No, but something that can be looked into in the future

Different departments are responsible for sidewalk implementation and maintenance. More interdepartmental coordination would be useful

Money is allocated from general funds towards capital improvements and pedestrian improvements

TSPLOST money is applied to sidewalks

- Going forward, what should the role of the City be with regards to encouraging economic growth?
 - Need to push/develop business incentives
 - Explore new market tax credits
 - Continue façade improvement grant program (that Tarika and Sylvia started)
 - Talk to prospective business owners
 - Attention to Land Use – make sure zoning and overlay allow economic development and growth
 - Make sure zones are located in places where growth is desired

- Language in each zoning district matters
 - Spatial layout
 - Seeking administrative rezoning
 - Make sure zoning districts, and the language use in each, matches the plan
 - More small business grants
 - Revolving loan funds
 - Hold more festivals and events
 - People can see what Fairburn is and what they have to offer
 - Can find partners to help host this so the brunt of the work doesn't fall on city staff
 - Create small business incubators
 - Activate spaces downtown with popups
 - Art has and can continue to play a big role in economic growth (x3)
 - Just established an Arts Advisory Council
 - Promote inclusion and diversity
 - (Note: no opportunity or enterprise zones in Fairburn)
- Going forward, what should the role of the City be with regards to addressing parking challenges downtown?
 - Buy land (X3)
 - Strategic purchase – maybe Washington St, Campbellton Rd
 - Overflow parking
 - Georgia Military College
 - LCI streetscape project will add parking
 - Hopefully constructed in 3–6 months
 - LCI streetscape will create an underground tunnel for people to cross under the train tracks
 - Committee member hopeful that LCI consultants might be able to locate other areas to add parking

Following these questions, the Housing, Transportation, and Economic development assets and opportunities listed in the 2015 Comprehensive Plan were compared to those identified by the steering committee in the first meeting for the 2020 Comprehensive Plan Update. The steering committee discussed which assets and opportunities from the 2015 Plan should be kept in or excluded from the 2020 update and discussed what new assets and opportunities should be added. The responses were recorded.

- Housing assets/opportunities
 - Consider adding to 2020 update
 - Multifamily housing is needed in strategic locations
 - More density
 - (notably, multifamily housing often has pushback from residents)
 - Need a mixture of housing options downtown
 - Downtown – Mixed–use development – could have commercial/retail on the ground floor, and multifamily above
 - Would strengthen the goal to make downtown an area to live/work/play
 - Hudson Plaza might be a prime location for mixed use development
 - Tiny Houses/Accessory Dwelling Units
 - If developers express interest in building tiny houses, they can make it happen
 - Example: Pinewood incorporated tiny homes into their footprint – something Fairburn could replicate
 - More affordable housing is needed
 - Opportunity to utilize ARC work – Metro Atlanta Housing Survey
 - Note: A committee member expressed concern that affordable housing will affect the marketability of downtown
 - Would rather have mixed income housing options downtown (affordable, workforce, and market rate, as to not detract developers)
 - Tiny homes
 - Affordability at different stages in life
 - Affordable aging–in–place
 - Lightning community (older residents) needs to be a priority
 - Area could be ripe for senior housing
 - Transportation Assets/Opportunities
 - Consider adding to 2020 update
 - Park and Ride system completed (~February 2020)
 - Will be advertised once people can return to work
 - Transit bus shelters in locations frequented by senior citizens

- Are pursuing this but MARTA provision of shelters is based on ridership
 - Alternatively, could be paid for with City funds
- Wayfinding signs
 - Some are planned
- Need more MARTA routes (is this in pursuit)
 - On 74
 - On Oakley Industrial
- Add pedestrian bridge
 - Note: currently pursuing two to help ensure safe railroad crossings

- Economic Development Assets/Opportunities
 - Consider adding to 2020 update
 - Need more MARTA routes
 - On 74
 - On Oakley Industrial
 - Add pedestrian bridge
 - Note: currently pursuing two to help ensure safe railroad crossings
 - Small business incubation program
 - Have an art gallery
 - Note: could have pop up galleries to activate public spaces downtown
 - Or improve on theater
 - Healthcare amenity / Urgent Care
 - Committee member noted that these can attract folks
 - Closest urgent care is in Newnan
 - Enhance existing farmer's market
 - Create a farmer Co-op
 - Want something similar to market 166
 - Continue to tap into the film industry
 - Note: working on creating a film ordinance
 - Working to become a film-ready city
 - Utilize Hotel/Motel tax

APPENDIX D: Broadband Access

BROADBAND ACCESS

Senate Bill 402, known as the ACE Act (Achieving Connectivity Everywhere), directs local communities to address broadband availability in local comprehensive plans. The local government must make an objective determination of whether it is served by broadband service. Appropriate follow-up steps must be identified based on the community's determination of whether it is served by broadband.

The following map identifies broadband service in Fairburn.

<https://broadbandmap.fcc.gov>

As used in this section: “Broadband services” means a wired or wireless terrestrial service that consists of the capability to transmit at a rate of not less than 25 megabits per second in the downstream direction and at least 3 megabits per second in the upstream direction to end users and in combination with such service provides:

- Access to the Internet; or
- Computer processing, information storage, or protocol conversion.

And “Broadband services provider” means any provider of broadband services or a public utility or any other person or entity that builds or owns a broadband network project.

Metro Atlanta, and Fulton County, generally enjoy widespread access to broadband technology from at least two to four service providers. As the market for broadband technology continues to expand and improve throughout the region and the State, Fairburn seems well positioned to ensure that access to the technology will be available in their market.
