FAIRBURN: SITUATED TO SUCCEED

Fairburn Summer Interns are Situated to Succeed

Focused, methodical, organized with attention to detail describes the attitude and demeanor of the interns that worked with the City of Fairburn through the Fulton County WorkSource Summer Youth Internship Program this summer. Interns were assigned to work throughout the city in the Administrative, Planning and Zoning, Parks & Recreation, and Police Departments. Working with the directors and supervisors of these departments allowed the interns to gain hands-on experience in the work field.

Interns were tasked with gaining experience in customer service, computer, communication, and accountability skills. From the smiles on their faces, as they greeted citizens or associates, filing of documents, creating reports, creating and assisting with projects, to assisting with supervising others, the interns engaged in a learning and working environment that will provide them with skills and traits that will follow them as they progress for future endeavors.

The City of Fairburn thanks these interns Theordric Drake, Jr., Alexander Gregory, Ciara Jackson, Javarius Moore, Andrew Okpodu for a job well done.

Also, to our Farmers Market Intern Kentrell Kitchens, "Dr. Green Thumb", thank you for your eagerness in working with our Fairburn Farmers Market. Great Job Interns!

Greetings Fairburn:

As summer vacations come to an end, continue to cherish the jovial memories shared with family and friends. On behalf of the Fairburn City Council and myself, we would like to wish every student and educator a blessed and successful school year. As you embark upon this new journey, always remember, "Education is the key to unlocking the world and a passport to freedom."

Mayor Elizabeth Carr-Hurst

Waste Industries is now part of GFL Environmental. You may begin to see new containers and trucks in the coming weeks, but rest assured it's the same great team that you've always known sporting a new coat of paint. The transition will be seamless to our customers and there's nothing you need to do on your end. However, we just want to keep you informed so that you are not alarmed if you receive a cart that's a different color than your neighbor or if you see a different color truck servicing your container. I can assure you that we are committed to providing you with the same level of service you've always received.

The City of Fairburn Utilities Department is no longer accepting partial or payment arrangements until further notice. Please comply with the notice on the back of your bill to avoid disconnection.
